March "Welcome"

Geibel

THE APOLLO CLUB

Come, come, come and hear our joyous welcome song,
Awake, and sing, the morn is bright.
Wake! Wake! sing, the morn is fair,
We give a welcome, a hearty welcome,
To all who love,
To all who breathe the balmy air.
While joy and pleasure reign ev'rywhere.
The scenes of gladness dispel all sadness.

Then let us sing it, and ring it,
Our joyous welcome song,
Yes welcome, welcome, friend and neighbor,
Welcome is the word we pass along.
Welcome, welcome, ev'ry stranger,
Welcome is the burden of our song.
And may the happy hours we spend together,
Fill us with a sense of keenest pride,
Welcome, thrice welcome,
Welcome within our hearts abide,
We sing the happy welcome,

THE APOLLO CLUB

One morning when spring was in her teens—
A morn to a poet's wishing
All tinted with delicate pinks and greens,
Miss Bessie and I went fishing.

I in my rough and easy clothes,
With my face at the sun-tan's mercy,
She with her hat tipp'd down to her nose,
And her nose tipp'd vice-versa.

I with my rod, my reel and my hooks,
And a hamper for luncheon recesses;
She with the bait of her comely looks,
And the seine of her golden tresses.

So we sat us down on the sunny dike,
Where the white pond lilies teeter,
And I went fishing like old Ike,
And she, and she like Simon Peter.

All the noon I lay in the light of her eyes,
And dreamily watch'd and waited,
But the fish were cunning, and did not rise,
And the baiter alone was baited.

So when the time for departure came,
My bag hung flat as a flounder,
But Bessie, had neatly hooked her game,
A hundred and fifty pounder.

- (a) Across the Hills . . . . . Walter Morse Rummel
(b) We are Free . . . . . Walter Morse Rummel
(DEDICATED TO MME. HANNAH)

Soft blows the evening air across the hills,
Soft springs the tender grass beneath my tread.
The evening bird in rapture shakes and trills,
Then fades where glows the sunset overhead.

But what are skies, if your eyes tell not love,
And what the bird's song, if your voice I miss?
What joy hath earth beneath or balm above,
If o'er the hills the wind bear not your kiss?

KATHERINE RUTH HEYMANN

The winds, as at their hour of birth,
Leaning upon the ridged sea,
Breathed low around the rolling earth,
With mellow preludes, "We are free."

The streams, through many a liliated row
Down-carolling to the crisped sea,
Low tinkled with a bell-like sound
Atween the blossoms, "We are free!"

LORD TENNYSON

- (c) Un bel di "Madama Butterfly" . . . . . Puccini
MME. HANNAH

And with his heart so heavy,
To conceal his trouble
With a smile he made answer:
"O Butterfly, my tiny little child-wife,
I'll return with the roses
The warm and sunny season
When the redbreasted robins
Are busy nesting."

He'll return, Say it with me:
He'll return.
Weeping? and why? and why?
Ah, 'tis faith you are lacking!
Hear me.

One fine day we'll notice
A thread of smoke arising on the sea
In the far horizon
And then the ship appearing;
Then the trim white vessel
Glides into the harbour, thunders forth her cannon
See you? Now he is coming!
I do not go to meet him. Not I!

I stay upon the brow of the hillock,
And wait there and wait for a long time,
But never weary of the long waiting.
From out the crowded city
There is coming a man
A little speck in the distance
Climbing the hillock.
Can you guess who it is?
And when he's reach'd the summit,
Can you guess what he'll say?
He will call: "Butterfly" from the distance.

I, without answ'ring, Hold myself quietly conceal'd
A bit to tease him and a bit so as not to die
At our first meeting, and then, a little troubled
He will call, he will call:
"Dear baby wife of mine, Dear little orange blossom!"
The names he used to call me when he came here
This will all come to pass as I tell you.
Banish your idle fears, For he will return
I know it.

All through the Night . . . . .

Gaines

THE APOLLO CLUB

Sleep, my love, and peace attend thee,
All thro' the night;
Guardian angels God will lend thee,
All thro' the night;
Soft the drowsy hours are creeping,
Hill and vale in slumber steeping,
Love alone his watch is keeping,
All thro' the night.

Though I roam a minstrel lonely,
All thro' the night;
My true harp shall praise thee only,
All thro' the night;
Love's young dream, alas! is over,
Yet my strains of love shall hover,
Near the presence of my lover,
All thro' the night.

Hark! a solemn bell is ringing,
All thro' the night;
Thou, my love, art heav'nward winging,
All thro' the night;
Eartly dust from off thee shaken,
Soul immortal, Thou shalt waken
With my last dim journey taken,
All thro' the night.

(a)	The Early Bird	.	.	Heartz
(b)	My Love	.	.	Parker

THE APOLLO CLUB

A dainty little worm,
Her early way did take,
The trees and flowers among.
To muse and meditate;

She saw the sky above,
She saw the earth below,
Her heart filled with joy
In morning's early glow.

A pretty, pretty bird
Soon spied the little worm,
And unto her he cried,
"My heart for thee doth yearn;

Come fly afar,
O'er meadow, vale and mere
My wings are strong,
I'll carry you my dear!"

The dainty, dainty worm
He folded in his breast,
Then flew, then flew;
But the poor little worm,
The poor, poor worm,
Had enter'd her long, long rest,

I have a love with golden hair,
And she is fair and golden fair,
And golden is she everywhere,
And my love's my golden care.

For she is like the golden wheat;
Or like the sun-flow'r golden sweet;
Or like the sun in heav'n that shines
Or like a thousand golden mines.

Nor would I change my golden sweet,
For golden mines or golden wheat,
Nor for the great and glorious sun,
No! nor for aught he shines upon,
No! No! nor for aught he shines upon.
