PART 1

The Forest King - - - - Max Stange

THE APOLLO CLUB

I

A hunter bold, free as the air,
The forest green I roam;
All ways and paths are known to me,
The tangled wild's my home.

Tra-ra, tra-ra!

Dark storm-clouds may o'ercast the sky,
The sun may shine, but what care I.

Tra-ra, tra-ra, etc.

The echoes ring, the echoes ring;
Here in the woods I am king.

I rule my kingdom royally,
Without a care or fear;
My rifle and my faithful hound
Are friends and subjects dear.

Tra-ra, tra-ra, etc.

Saint Hubert guards me night and day,
My patron saint to him I pray.

Tra-ra, tra-ra, etc.

The echoes ring, the echoes ring;
Here in the woods I am king.

Deep in the shade a cottage stands,
And there a maid doth dwell;
My woodland queen, whose dark brown eyes
Her fond devotion tell.

Sweet is her kiss, O gift divine!
Blest in her love, what joy is mine!

Tra-ra, tra-ra, etc.

The echoes ring, the echoes ring;
Here in the woods I am king!

A king am I!

IM ABENDROTH

O, how fair Thy World is dight,
Father, when it golden gloweth,
When Thy falling radiance bright
Shining o'er the dust outgoeth!
When the crimson in the cloud that beams,
Thro' my silent Window streams.

Can I ever pine or waver?
Lose my faith in One so kind?
No, in truth I will persevere
Here on Earth a Heav'n to find.
And this heart, before 'tis quench'd in night,
Shall imbibe Thy glorious light.

STÄNDCHEN

Warm entreaties, gently pleading,
Through the night to thee,
Say while all is calm and silent,
Dearest, come to me!

Whisp'ring branches softly murmur
In the moonlight clear;
None may watch thee, none can harm thee,
Wherefore dost thou fear.

Hear the nightingale so tender,
Would her strain were thine!
Ev'ry note, lamenting echoes,
Some fond sigh of mine.

Ah! she knows the lover's wishes,
Mourns when hopes depart,
Moving with her silvery cadence
Ev'ry drooping heart.

Let thy pity then restore me,
Dearest, art thou so near?
Oh! I tremble lest I lose thee,
Come and bless me here!

DIE POST

Thro' the streets I hear the posthorn ring
Say whence does this emotion spring, my heart?

The post doth bring no news for me,
What then so strangely grieveth thee, Oh heart, poor heart?

Yes, from the town the post is here,
Where once I had a love so dear, my heart!

Wilt ask if he hath yonder been,
And if thy lov'd one he hath seen, my heart.

AVE MARIA

Ave Maria! maiden mild!
Listen to a maiden's prayer,
Thou canst hear, though from the wild,
Thou canst save amid despair.
Safe may we sleep beneath thy care,
Though banished, outcast, and reviled.
O Maiden! hear a maiden's prayer!
O Mother, hear a suppliant child!
Ave Maria.

Ave Maria! stainless styl'd!
Foul demons of the earth and air,
From this their wonted haunt exil'd,
Shall flee before thy presence fair.
We bow us to our lot of care;
Beneath thy guidance reconcil'd,
Hear, for a maid, a maiden's prayer!
And, for a father, hear a child,
Ave Maria!

THE IMPATIENT LOVER

Dearest, here I wait thee, here I wait thee;
Come, come!
Under the stars with thee I'll roam;
Dearest, here I wait thee, here I wait thee;
Come, come!
Under the stars with thee I'll roam.

Here 'neath the shadow of the birch tree
Sweet words of love I'll tell to thee.
Dearest, here I wait thee, here I wait thee;
Come, come!
Under the stars let us roam.

Not a soul shall see us,
Not a creature shall hear;
Come then, my dearest,
Why dost thou fear?
Fire-flies lend us their friendly light,
Spring will surround us with its delight.
Hark, dearest, hark, as from the vale
Ringeth the plaint of the nightingale.
Hark, dearest, hark, as from the vale,
Hark, the sweet nightingale!

Dearest, here I wait thee, here I wait thee;
Come, come!
Under the stars with thee I'll roam.
Here 'neath the shadow of the birch tree
Sweet words of love I'll tell to thee.
Dearest, here I wait thee, here I wait thee;
Come, come!
Under the stars let us roam.

BORDER BALLAD

March, march, Ettrick and Teviotdale!
Why the deil dinna ye march forward in order?
March, march, Eskdale and Liddesdale,
All the Blue Bonnets are bound for the Border.
Many a banner spread,
Flutters above your head,
Many a crest that is famous in story;
Mount and make ready, then,
Sons of the mountain glen,
Fight for the Queen and our old Scottish glory.

Come from the hills where your hirsels are grazing.
Come from the glen of the buck and the roe;
Come to the crag where the beacon is blazing,
Come with the buckler, the lance, and the bow.
Trumpets are sounding,
War steeds are bounding,
Stand to your arms and march in good order;
England shall many a day
Tell of the bloody fray
When the Blue Bonnets came over the Border.
March, march, Ettrick and Teviotdale,
All the Blue Bonnets are bound for the Border.

I

For Soprano:

- (a) Go, Lovely Rose - -
  - (b) The Cock Shall Crow -
  - (c) When I Bring to You Colored Toys
  - (d) The Sleep That Flits on Baby's Eyes
- } John A. Carpenter

MISS JULIA CULP

GO, LOVELY ROSE

Go, lovely rose!
Tell her, that wastes her time, and me,
That now she knows,
When I resemble her to thee,
How sweet and fair she seems to be.

Tell her, that's young,
And shuns to have her graces spied,
That had'st thou sprung
In deserts, where no men abide,
Thou must have uncommended died.

Then die! that she
The common fate of all things rare
May read in thee:
How small a part of time they share,
That are so wondrous sweet and fair!

—Edmund Waller.

THE COCK SHALL CROW

The cock shall crow in the morning gray,
The bugles blow at the break of day,
The cock shall sing and the merry bugles ring,
And all the little brown birds sing upon the spray.

The thorn shall blow in the month of May,
My love shall go in her holiday array,
But I shall lie in the Kirkyard nigh
While all the little brown birds sing upon the spray.

—From "Poems and Ballads."
Robert Louis Stevenson.

WHEN I BRING TO YOU COLORED TOYS

When I bring to you colored toys, my child, I understand why there is such a play of colors on clouds, on water, and why flowers are painted in tints—when I give colored toys to you, my child.

When I sing to make you dance I truly know why there is music in leaves, and why waves send their chorus of voices to the heart of the listening earth—when I sing to make you dance.

When I bring sweet things to your greedy hands, I know why there is honey in the cup of the flower and why fruits are secretly filled with sweet juice—when I bring sweet things to your greedy hands.

THE SLEEP THAT FLITS ON BABY'S EYES

The sleep that flits on baby's eyes—does anybody know from where it comes? Yes, there is a rumor that it has its dwelling where, in the fairy village among shadows of the forest dimly lit with glow-worms, there hang two timid buds of enchantment. From there it comes to kiss baby's eyes.

—"Gitanjali," from Poem 61.
Rabindranath Tagore.

II

Rose and the Gardener - - Edgar Thorn

---

(La la.)

The rose in the garden slipped her bud,
And she laughed, and laughed, and laughed;
Laughed in the pride of her youthful blood,
And she laughed, and laughed, and laughed.
As she thought of the gardener standing by,
She laughed, and laughed, and laughed.
"He is old, so old, and he soon will die!"
La la la, etc.

The full rose waxed in the warm June air,
And she spread and spread till her heart lay bare,
And she laughed once more as she heard his tread.
And she laughed, and laughed, and laughed.
"He is older now, he will soon be dead."

(Humming.)

But the breeze of the morning blew, and found
That the leaves of the blown rose strewed the ground;
And he came at noon, that gard'ner old,
And he raked them softly under the mould.
La la la, etc.

For I wove the thing to a random rhyme,
(I wove, I wove, I wove, etc.)
For the rose is Beauty, the gard'ner Time.

MISS JULIA CULP

MORGEN

To-morrow's sun will rise in glory beaming,
And in the pathway that my foot shall wander,
We'll meet, forget the earth and, lost in dreaming,
Let heav'n unite a love that earth no more shall sunder:

And towards that shore, its billows softly flowing,
Our hands entwined, our footsteps slowly wending!
Gaze in each other's eyes in love's soft splendor glowing,
Mute with tears of joy and bliss ne'er ending.

—John Bernhoff.

HEIMLICHE AFFORDERUNG

Up, lift now the sparkling gold cup to the lip, and drink!
And leave not a drop in the goblet fill'd full to the brink.
And as thou dost pledge me, let thine eyes rest on me,
Then I will respond to thy smile and gaze all silent on thee.

Then let thy eyes bright wander around o'er the comrades gay and merry,
O do not despise them, love;
Lay! lift up the sparkling gold goblet and join in the sway
Let them rejoice and be happy this festive day.

But, when thou hast drunk and eaten, no longer stay;
Rise and turn thine eyes from the drinkers and hasten away!
And wending thy steps to the garden, where blush the roses fair,
Come the sheltering arbour! I'll meet thee there.

And soft on thy bosom resting I let me adore
Thy beauty, drink thy kisses as oft before,
I'll twine around thy fair forehead the roses white,
O come thou wondrous bliss bestowing, longed for night.

STANDCHEN

The moon hangs over the mountain,
Just right for lovers dear;
In the garden murmurs a fountain—
No sound else, far and near.
Close to the wall, in the shadow
Three students hide from the moon,
With flute, and fiddle and zither,
And voice they raise a tune.
The music floats up to the fair one,
And into her dreams is wrought,
She sees her fair-haired lover,
And whispers: "Forget-me-not!"

—Mrs. John P. Morgan.

DER SCHMIED

My true love I hear.
His hammer up swinging
His anvil is ringing
My heart he rejoices,
It sounds like glad voices
Of chimes strong and clear.

He stands 'mid the smoke,
His arm high uptossing,
When by I am passing
The furnace is roaring,
The sparks high up soaring,
Then fast flies his stroke.

WIEGENLIED

Now to all a good night, with roses bedight,
With pillow bested, is baby's wee bed,
May our Lord be thy guard till the fair morning light.

Now to all a good night, good angels delight,
To show in thy dream a Yuletree a gleam;
Slumber well, slumber long, slumber now to my song.

IV

Bedouin Love Song - - - Arthur Foote

Mr. Charles Galloway—At Piano

THE APOLLO CLUB

---

From the desert I come to thee,
On my arab shod with fire;
And the winds are left behind
In the speed of my desire.
Under thy window I stand,
And the midnight hears my cry:
I love thee, I love but thee,
With a love that shall not die,
    Till the sun grows cold,
    And the stars are old,
And the leaves of the Judgment Book unfold.

Look from thy window and see
My passion and my pain;
I lie on the sands below,
And I faint in thy disdain.
Let the night winds touch thy brow
With the heat of my burning sigh,
And melt thee to hear the vow
Of a love that shall not die,
    Till the sun grows cold, etc.

My steps are nightly driven
By the fever in my breast,
To hear from thy lattice breathed
The word that shall give me rest.
Open the door of thy heart,
And open thy chamber door,
And my kisses shall teach thy lips
The love that shall fade no more,
    Till the sun grows cold, etc.
