PART ONE

Wanderer's Song - - - Schumann-Schehlmann

THE APOLLO CLUB

I

WANDERER'S SONG.

Once more fill the goblet with wine sparkling bright,
To those I am leaving my heart I will plight,
Farewell, all around me, farewell to my home,
I long in the wide world afar off to roam.

The sun does not shine on this one spot alone,
He lights earth and ocean from zone unto zone,
The waves do not cease where it leaves the white strand,
But winds restless drive it with might through the land.

Like clouds to the birds they must wander alone,
But where e'er they tarry they sing their old song,
And like them the wand'rer his banner unfurled,
He follows the mother, the wandering world.

But far off he's greeted by notes sweet and clear;
The birds of his own home they bring him good cheer,
The flow'rets they seem like old friends, as of yore,
Their fragrance is followed from shore unto shore.

The birds knew his cottage, his own country's air,
The flow'rets adorned his maid true and fair;
And love e'er escorts him and lends him a hand,
And home thus he finds in the most distant land.

Once more fill the goblet with wine sparkling bright,
To those I am leaving my heart I will plight,
Farewell, all around me, farewell to my home,
I long in the wide world afar off to roam.

THE APOLLO CLUB

INVICTUS.

Out of the night that covers me,
Black as the pit from pole to pole,
I thank whatever gods may be
For my unconquerable soul.

In the fell clutch of circumstance
I have not winced nor cried aloud;
Under the bludgeonings of chance
My head is bloody, but unbow'd.

Beyond this place of wrath and tears
Looms but the Horror of the shade,
And yet the menace of the years
Finds and shall find me unafraid.

It matters not how strait the gate,
How charg'd with punishments the scroll;
I am the master of my fate:
I am the captain of my soul.

DEEP RIVER.

Deep river, my home is over Jordan
Deep river, Lord, I want to cross over into camp-ground.
Deep river, my home is over Jordan
Deep river, Lord, I want to cross over into camp-ground,
Oh, don't you want to go to that gospel feast,
That promis'd land, where all is peace?
Oh, deep, deep river, Lord, I want to cross over into camp-ground.

Song of the Camp - - - - H. T. Stewart

Baritone Solo - - Mr. John A. Rohan

At the Piano . - Mr. Charles Galloway

THE APOLLO CLUB

THE SONG OF THE CAMP.

"Give us a song," the soldiers cried,
The outer trenches guarding,
When the heated guns of the camps allied
Grew weary of bombarding.

The dark Redan in silent scoff
Lay grim and threat'ning under;
And the tawny mound of the Malakoff
No longer belched its thunder.

There was a pause; a guardsman said:
"We storm the forts tomorrow;
Sing while we may; another day
Will bring enough of sorrow."

They lay along the batt'ry's side,
Below the smoking cannon:
Brave hearts, from Severn and from Clyde,
And from the banks of Shannon.

They sang of love, and not of fame;
Forgot was Britain's glory:
Each heart recalled a diff'rent name,
But all sang "Annie Laurie."

Voice after voice caught up the song,
Until its tender passion
Rose like an anthem rich and strong,
Their battle-eve confession.

Dear girl, her name he dared not speak,
But as the song grew louder,
Something upon the soldier's cheek
Washed off the stains of powder.

Beyond the dark'ning ocean burned
The bloody sunset's embers,
While the Crimean valleys learned
How English love remembers.

And once again a fire of hell,
Rained on the Russian quarters
With scream of shot, and burst of shell,
And bellowing of mortars.

And Irish Nora's eyes are dim
For a singer, dumb and gory,
And English Mary mourns for him
Who sang of Annie Laurie.

Sleep, soldiers! still in honored rest
Your truth and valor wearing,
The bravest are the tenderest,
The loving are the daring.

Sleep, sleep, sleep.

Farewell - - - - - E. Cutter, Jr.

FAREWELL

The crimson sunset faded into gray;
Above the murm'rous sea the twilight fell;
The last warm breath of the delicious day
Pass'd with a mute farewell.
Above my head in the dull purple sky,
A wild note sounded like a shrill-voiced bell;
Three gulls met, wheel'd and parted with a cry,
That seemed to say farewell.

Farewell! I thought, it is the earth's one speech;
All human voices the sad chorus swell;
Tho' mighty love to heaven's high gate may reach,
Yet must he say farewell.
Farewell, farewell, from wave to wave 'tis toss'd,
From wind to wind; earth has one tale to tell;
All other sounds are dull'd, and drown'd, and lost,
In this one cry, farewell.
