FLAG, DEAR TO ME.

(Song of the Apollo Volunteer)

Air: Home, Dear to Me.

Away now I hasten at Freedom's call,
Away from my peaceful home;
Our liberty's in peril, our lives, and our all,
Away 'cross the seas I roam;
Flag that I love, flag dear to me.
Whene'er in danger, I'll fight for thee.

Though love of our contry now fills my heart,
Yet with regret and with pain,
From friends of childhood and youth I part;
Who knows will we meet again?
Flag that I love, flag dear to me.
Whene'er in danger, I'll fight for thee.

And though I may not return from "over there"
To share in the fruits of victory;
That I have given my life for the Stars and Stripes
Shall ever my glory be.
Flag that I love, flag dear to me.
Whene'er in danger, I'll fight for thee.

M. B. DWYER.
