I

THE PILOT

I.

Speed on, my bark, through tempests on faring;
Bear on, my keel, thro' the turbulent sea.
Wild as the storm, as the wave ever daring,
Strongly defiance aroused is in me.
Do thou stand firm till the storm is over,
Shivering mast, when the surging waves on bear;
Often did o'er thee the tempest wild hover,
Oft hast thou weathered the lightning's red glare!

II.

Art thou dispelled by the tempest's raging,
Bright rosy dream of youth's happy day?
Fair buds of promise my hopes engaging,
E'en like the sea-foam, ye drift away.
Ah! when the conflict to calm way has given,
Far o'er the clouds that still threat'ning appear,
Spann'd will the arch be, in yonder bright heaven,
Strains of the blessed choir sound in the ear.

III.

Far, far beyond this commotion unending,
Beameth the blessed, the bright golden shore;
Promise of peace to forlorn souls extending,
Rest for the homeless (those) whose wand'rings are o'er.
Tho' by the storm e'en my timbers be shattered,
Tho' it be crushed e'en my masthead or hull,
Still, oh ye waves, is my courage not shattered.
Who persevereth may still reach his goal.
Speed on, my bark, etc.

SPANISH SONG

On, on, my beautiful pony, on, on, on, on!
Tho' as a smuggler berated,
I win respect unabated, On, on, on, on!
Danger there's none but I dare it,
Fear never more will I share it! On, on, on, on!
So go lightly, go lightly, my darling,
So go lightly, go lightly, my darling! On! on, on!
Ah, my pony, 'tis growing so weary!
On, on, now on, on, now on, on, now on, on, on, on!
Else we may fall on the warders,
Ere we are over the borders, On, on!
So go lightly, go lightly, my darling! On! on, on!
Ah, my darling, my beautiful pony, on, on, on, on, on, on!

MARGARITA

I.

'Neath the waves the sun is going,
With bright lines the sky is glowing,
Twilight o'er the earth is stealing,
Far off the evening bells are pealing;
Then I think, I think of thee, Margarita.

II.

On a rocky crag I'm lying,
Stranger in a strange land sighing;
Round my feet the waves are dancing,
Through my soul float dreams entrancing;
Then I think, I think of thee, Margarita.

INTERMISSION OF TEN MINUTES

Twilight - - - - - Dudley Buck

THE APOLLO CLUB

TWILIGHT

Out of the pearly gates and the golden portals of sunset,
Crushing the amber light in the shade of her night-black tresses,
Weaving with subtle hands the mystical web of the darkness,
Comes thro' the quiet air, the shadowy form of the Twilight.
Wondrously fair is she, wondrously fair!
Fair as the star that gleams on her bosom;
Holding the spangled robe that airily floats around her,
Wondrously fair is she, with eyes that are pure as heaven.
Eyes from whose quiet light the blessing of peace descending,
Falls on the cares of day hushing them all to silence.
Back to the white-haired sire she brings the days of his childhood,
Laughter, and noisy games, and visions of boyish faces.
Back to the mother's ears she brings the prattle of children,
Fastens the broken links she lost, in the quiet churchyard.
But to the young man's eyes she shows the dawning of promise,
The beautiful days to come, the battles that lie before him,
Flushes of love and fire. Victories worth the winning!
Honor, and wealth, and fame! the strife, and the crown of glory!
So doth she weave her spell till on her sombre garments,
Crush'd and hidden away lie all the roses of sunset,
Then in her shadowy wings, folding the gifts she brought us,
Dreams of the beautiful past, hopes of the beautiful future,
Like to a dream herself departs the mystical twilight.

UP AND ON

Tramp, tramp, tramp, tramp, tramp, tramp, tramp,
Up and on, the Union flings the call!
Up and on, our Country first of all!
Where the Stars and Stripes point out the way
We will carry on to vict'ry's glorious day!
O'er our ranks the Flag awake that Freedom to the freeman gave!
And in our hearts the faith that Right Will triumph ever over might!
Knowing Freedom cannot die Its foes we dauntlessly defy,
O up and on and at them While we trust in God on high!
Up and on, the Union flings the call!
Up and on, our Country first of all!
Where the Stars and Stripes point out the way,
We will carry on to vict'ry's glorious day!
Then, when Old Glory leads us Back to the homes that wait
Victories won to speed us, Our hearts with joy elate.
Mothers and wives will greet us, Girls whom we left behind,
Under the Flag they'll meet us, Under the Flag us find!
Hurrah! Hurrah! Hurrah!
