"The Sphere doth turn and Northland's songs are heard Clear as in early morn the pipe of bird."

NORWAY

(a) Scene from Peer Gynt.....Henrik Ibsen

Peer Gynt, the Norwegian hero, stirred by longing for the open road, traveled through many lands, gathering riches and jewels as he wandered. In Arabia, he became fascinated with the alluring Anitra, daughter of a Bedouin chief. He clothed himself in turban and flowing robes, he decked himself with jewels and she charmed his somewhat jaded fancy with her Oriental dancing. Then leaping upon a charger, she escaped into the desert.

Anitra*Miss Helen Jennings*

Peer Gynt*Vernon W. Aikins*

Anitra's Dance.....Chorus.....Edward Grieg

THE MORNING CHORAL CLUB

"The carefree peasants of the Apennines Sing to the Sphere beneath their clustered vines."

ITALY

"LA FESTA PIE DI GROTTO"

(The Feast at the Foot of the Grotto)

The Neapolitans gather for their Fiesta of the Grotto. They are happy for Elenoro Scarlatti, Queen of the Milan Opera, comes to sing for them, and the populace dance the folk dance of her childhood.

Rosetta, the flower girl, after adorning Scarlatti with flowers, finds Beppo, the Gondolier, and coquettes with him in song.

The fun centers about Lola, who with her laden donkey, brings her share to the gaiety.

In a maze of song and motion the Fiesta reaches its height.

MISS MARGARET RENO

- (a) There’s someone tapping on the maple tree,
Tap, tipy, tap, tap, tap;
But there’s no one about that I can see,
Save a lark that is singing a song of glee
On a sunlit bough, and it isn’t he
That is tapping away so steadily,
Tap, tipy, tap, tap, tap.

There’s someone coming down the maple tree,
Tap, tipy, tap, tap, tap;
And he’s hopping about so busily
In a cap quite as red as a barberry,
And a coat deeply blue as a starlit sea,
And he’s singing a laughing melody,
Tap, tipy, tap, tap, tap.

There's someone going to the maple tree,
Tap, tipy, tap, tap, tap;
He's as gay as a prince or a lord, but he Hasn't time to go 'round showing off, you see,
For he stays in the woods working lovingly
At a snug little home for his family,
Tap, tipy, tap, tap, tap.

Frederick Manley

(b) Faint, faint and clear,
Faint as the music that in dreams we hear,
Shaking the curtain fold of sleep,
That shuts away the world's hoarse voice, the sights and
sounds of day,
Her sorry joys, her phantoms false and fleet,
So softly, softly stirs the wind's low murmur in the rippled wheat.

From west to east the warm breath blows
The slender heads droop low as if in prayer;
Again, more lightly tossed in merry play
They bend and bow and sway with measured beat
But never rest; thro' shadow and thro' sun
Goes on the tender rustle of the wheat.

Dreams more than sleep
Fall on the listening heart and lull its care;
Dead years send back some treasured unforgotten tune.
Ah, long ago, when sun and sky were sweet, in happy noon,
We stood breast high, mid waves of ripened grain
And heard the wind make music in the wheat.

Not for to-day, not for this hour alone the melody
So soft and ceaseless thrills the dreamer's ear;
It holds a part of all that was and is, of all that yet shall be.
Love, sorrow, longing, pain, the restlessness that yearns,
The thirst that burns, the bliss that like a fountain overflows.
The deep repose, good that we might have known, but shall not know,
The hope God took, the joy He made complete,
Life's chords all answer from the windswept wheat.

Ah, long ago, when sun and sky were sweet
We heard the wind make music in the wheat.

—Madeline Bridges.

(c) Way down upon the Swanee Ribber, far, far, away,
Dere's wha my heart is turning eber, dere's wha de old folks stay.

All up and down de whole creation, sadly I roam,
Still longing for de old plantation, and for de old folks home.
All de world am sad and dreary, ebrywhere I roam,
Oh darkies, how my heart grows weary far from de old folks
at home.

All around de little farm I wandered, when I was young,
Den many happy days I squandered, many de songs I sung.
When I was playing wid my brudder, happy was I.
Ah take me to my kind old mudder, dere let me live and die.
All de world am sad and dreary, ebrywhere I roam,
Oh darkies, how my heart grows weary, far from de old folks at home.

One little hut among the bushes, one that I love,
Still sadly to my memory rushes no matter where I rove.
When will I see de bees a humming all round de comb,
When will I hear the banjo tumming down in my good old home.
All de world am sad and dreary ebry where I roam,
Oh darkies how my heart grows weary, far from de old folks
at home.
