PART ONE

A Vagabond Song - - - - - Daniel Prothero

THE APOLLO CLUB

Piano, Mr. Chas. Galloway

I

It's ho! for a song as wild and free
As the swash of the waves in the open sea;
It's ho! for a song as unconfined
As the hawk that sails in the summer wind;
A song for the vagabond's heart and brain,
Refreshing and sweet as the roving rain
That chants to the thirsty earth.
Yo Ho! A song of rollicking mirth,
Yo Ho! A song of the grass and grain!

II

It's ho! for a vagabond's life, say I!
A vagabond live, and a vagabond die;
It's ho! to roam in the solitudes,
And chum with the birds in the vagrom woods
To sleep with flowers and wash in dew;
And dream of love, that is ever new,
A love that never grows stale,
Like a cask of rum or ale—
A love that is ever true.

III

It's ho! for a stretch of the dusty road,
Or here a meadow, or there a lode;
It's ho! to hear in the early morn
The yellow allegro of tasselled corn;
To sail in fancy the golden main
Where breezes billow the seas of grain,
And the swallows that skim the tips,
Yo ho! Yo ho! are richly cargoed ships,
Outbound for the ports of Spain.

IV

It's ho! for the smell of the sap that swims,
When the maples sweat like an athlete's limbs;
It's ho! for the joys that crowd the Spring,
The brawl of brooks the birds that sing;
To wander at will the summer through,
Indifferent to blame, careless of due;
In winter the kiss that slips, Yo ho!
From a nut brown maid's lips, Yo ho!
And the love that lies in her eyes of blue!

(b) An Ichthyosaurian Monster . . . . . Homer N. Bartlett
    Incidental Solo . . . . . Mr. Ludwig Niedner

THE APOLLO CLUB

Tricolor

Red are the poppies;
Blue are the cornflow'rs over the dead;
White are the crosses
Flicking the young wheat far and wide;
Soft are the breezes
Bending the blossoms blue and red,
Over the wheat-birth,
Tenderly crooning where they died.

An Ichthyosaurian Monster

Zo, Zo, Zo, Zo, Zo, ology, Zoology!
Zig, Zig, Zig, Zig, Zig, Zig-a-zig!
Kind people, now give your attention,
And a tale of a reptile I'll mention;
'Tis about a fierce saurian monster,
Who lived and who died ages ago.
Zig-a-zig, Zig-a-zig, Zig-a-zig!

There once was an Ichthyosaurus,
Who lived many ages before us;
He had a great mouth, full forty feet wide;
'Twas lined with sharp teeth, two rows on each side,
And the swish of his tail, and the snap of his jaw
Suggested live food for his cavernous maw!
Old Ichthyosaurus, Vade!

War Song - - - - - Edgar Thorn

THE APOLLO CLUB

Onward tramp, steadily onward tramp,
Resolute warriors, pledged to Freedom's call;
Onward tramp, e'en to the Vale of Death,
Sturdily marching on, through all.

Right is might, stronger than life;
All foresworn foes, their cause shall rue;
So onward tramp, sturdy to victory;
Resolute heroes all, and true.

What has been sown must e'er be reaped;
War calls the world to Conscience's voice;
Though blood may flow and loved ones weep,
Still, shall the nation's heart rejoice.

Hold firm aloft the glorious flag
And bend the foe to Honor's sway;
Onward, steadily onward tramp;
Verily, Truth doth lead the way.

The Lost Chord - - - - - Arthur Sullivan

THE APOLLO CLUB

Piano, Mr. Chas. Galloway

Seated one day at the organ, I was weary and ill at ease,
And my fingers wandered idly over the noisy keys;
I know not what I was playing or what I was dreaming then;
But I struck one chord of music like the sound of a great
A-men.

It flooded the crimson twilight, like the close of an angel's
psalm,
And it lay on my fever'd spirit, with a touch of infinite calm;
It quieted pain and sorrow, like overcoming strife;
It seem'd the harmonious echo from our discordant life.
It linked all perplexed meanings into one perfect peace,
And trembled away into silence as if it were loth to cease.

I have sought but I seek it vainly, that one lost chord divine,
Which came from the soul of the organ and enter'd into mine.
It may be that Death's bright angel will speak in that chord
again;
It may be that only in Heaven I shall hear that grand A-men.
