

A young musical genius is just blossoming out in Episcopal choir circles. His name is Charles Galloway, who, though only 17 years old, has composed a very beautiful and original Te Deum, which he has dedicated to Rev. F. K. Brooke, the rector of St. Peter's. Young Galloway is organist at St. Peter's, whose surplice choir, under direction of Mr. Emile A. Becker, is practicing the new production for Easter morning. It will also be rendered at St. John's Episcopal Church.
