

Mr. Kissel officiated as organist last Sunday for St. George's Choir, owing to the absence of Mr. Charles Galloway, who was in Kansas City, where he had gone to play in a musical entertainment given by the Loyal Legion there.

Charles Galloway will leave the latter part of the month for Burlington, Io., where he will give an organ recital in one of the churches. This will be his second recital in that city this spring. The first time he went to dedicate a new organ, and was employed by a local organ builder, and his playing made such a favorable impression that the church people have decided to engage him for a second concert.

The people of Burlington, Io., are well known