

Preparations are well under way for the next Komzak popular concert, with the Exposition Orchestra of eighty-two pieces. The concert will be given Tuesday at 4 p. m., instead of 4:30 p. m., as heretofore. A splendid programme has been prepared. The organ recital for to-morrow will be given by Charles Galloway of St. Louis, the official organist of the Exposition. Mr. Galloway will render his programme at 11:30 a. m.
