
CHARLES GALLOWAY.

The Pittsburg Post in commenting upon a recital given by the Western organist Charles Galloway of St. Louis has this to say, "Scales as beautiful as any string of pearls fairly dropped from his fingers, while the most massive chords and intricately complex polyphony were child's play to him, and fairly glowed in transparent beauty." Hear this wonderful organist Friday evening, February 7th in the Christian church.
