

WWEATHER*66U. S. Weather Bureau.
Chicago, Ill., Feb. 1, 1911DAILY FREE PRESS:

Fair tonight and Thursday;
not much change in temperature,
Cox.

Mrs. James Kirk and daughter, Miss Vida, went to Kankakee this afternoon where they will make their home.

Mrs. E. H. Lynn left this afternoon for East St. Louis where she will visit her daughter, Mrs. R. T. Cooper.

A copy of the Havana, Cuba, Post, date of Feb. 21st, reached the Free Press office today through the courtesy of Mr. Hugh Lauder.

FOR RENT—The former Ed S. Patten property, West Main street; 7 room house, furnace, electric lights. Apply to T. L. Cherry.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Caldwell and daughter, Virginia, were passengers this afternoon to Biloxi, Mississippi, where they will make an indefinite visit.

Kill catarrh germs and banish catarrh by breathing Hyomei. Snuffles, hawking and spitting quickly go. E. K. Porter guarantees it. Complete outfit $1.00, extra bottles 50 cents.

“Mr. Charles Galloway gave an organ recital at the Grand avenue Presbyterian church. All numbers were strictly organ compositions and all of the highest order. Mr. Galloway has demonstrated that the public will enjoy strictly organ music, minus the arrangements so customary with the usual organists, if it is well given. His success was so great that a repetition was asked of the entire program.”—Musical Record. Mr. Galloway will entertain you at the Presbyterian church Thursday evening.

The Baptist Sunday school cabinet held a large and interesting meeting last night at the parsonage. The next regular monthly meeting, March 28, will be held at the home of Miss Buck.

Mrs. Chas. E. Feirich received word yesterday afternoon that her brother was very ill at Buffalo, N. Y., and not expected to survive the day. Mrs. Feirich left on No. 8 Tuesday night for Chicago from where she went on to Buffalo today. Mr. Feirich accompanied her as far as Chicago.

Mr. Galloway, who gives the organ recital here Thursday evening, is organist of St. Peters Episcopal church in St. Louis, and commands the largest salary of any organist in that city. Leading musicians consider him the best in the city, no one approaching him in skill. When he gives recitals at St. Peters, the church is crowded.

The list of candidates for city offices in Murphysboro at the coming city primary there includes: Otis F. Glenn, republican; Dr. I. W. Ellis, Gus Blair and Joseph H. Borgers, democrats, for mayor; Albert Kuehle, democrat, and Ralph Allison, republican, for city treasurer; John Pelzer, democrat, and Thos. Jordan, republican, for city clerk; W. P. Wilson, republican, and R. P. Martin, democrat, for city attorney. The socialists will also have a full ticket in the field headed by John Keough, for mayor. The primary occurs March 14.

Since the majority of the country teachers close their schools about the 1st of March, they may easily attend both Spring and Summer terms of the Southern Illinois Normal University, thus putting in about one