

CHRISTMAS CAROLS TO BE FEATURE OF RECITAL

Charles Galloway.

Christmas carols will be the feature of the public organ recital of Charles Galloway at Graham Memorial Chapel, Washington University, Sunday afternoon, at 3 o'clock.

An "Offertoire on Christmas Carols," by Alexander Guilmant, will be the opening number. The number comprises three French carols, where "Noels," as Christmas carols are called in France, are very popular.

The other numbers will be, "Sonata in E Minor," by James H. Rogers; "Evening Song," by Edward C. Bairstow; "Badinage," by Alphonse Maily, and "Processional March," by Whitney.

Rogers is a Cleveland composer and organist. He composed the sonata in twenty-five minutes. Maily is organist at Ste. Gudule at Brussels and professor of organ in the conservatory in that city. Whitney introduced the English cathedral service in the Church of the Advent, Boston, where he was organist for thirty years.
