

CHORAL CLUB TO GIVE ITS CLOSING RECITAL TUESDAY

The Morning Choral Club will give its closing recital of the season Tuesday evening at the Scottish Rite Cathedral, with Jurien Hoekstra, baritone, as assisting artist.

Ernest R. Kroeger also will appear Tuesday evening in recital in the hall, 4525 Olive street, under the auspices of the Progressive Series Teachers' College. He will play Beethoven's Sonata in F minor (Appassionata) and a group of modern pieces.

At 3 p. m. tomorrow Charles Galloway will give the seventh in his current series of free organ recitals at Graham Memorial Chapel, Washington University. He will be assisted by Marie Becker, soprano, and B. J. Symon, tenor.

Miss Lavina May Mingos, pianist, a pupil of the Strassberger Conservatories of Music, will be presented in recital Wednesday evening at the Conservatory Building, Grand boulevard and Shenandoah avenues. She will be assisted by Christine Werthmuller, vocalist, and Margaret Hablutzel, accompanist.

The next meeting of the Mel-Harmonic Club will be held at 8 p. m. Tuesday in Baldwin Recital Hall.