IN MEMORY OF MR. FURNISS

Special Services at St. Stephens Mission for the Late Warden and Organist of the Church.

Solemn services in memory of the late Anthony Furniss, who, with a portion of his family, lost his life in the great storm at Galveston, will be held next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, the eve of All Saints' Day, at St. Stephens' Mission, Sixth and Rutgers streets.

Mr. Furniss served seven years as warden and organist of St. Stephens' and was held in high esteem.

He was born in London in 1850 and was connected with the Missouri Pacific Railway Co. 15 years as auditor of the railroad's coal company business. With his wife and three daughters he had gone to Galveston to spend his vacation at the beach. There the storm caught him. His body, strangely enough, was found in the Protestant Episcopal Cemetery, but it was taken, with those of his wife and daughters, and buried at sea. He left a young son in St. Louis.

It is designed by the congregation of St. Stephens' to eventually erect a bronze statue to the memory of Mr. Furniss, who will ever be remembered with affection by all who knew him.

REWARD OF MERIT.

A New Catarrh Cure Secures National Popularity in Less Than One Year.

Throughout a great nation of eighty million it is a desperate struggle to secure even a recognition for a new article, to say nothing of achieving popular favor, and yet within one year Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, the new catarrh cure, has met with such success that today it can be found in every drug store throughout the United States and Canada.

To be sure, a large amount of advertising was necessary in the first instance to bring the remedy to the attention of the public, but every one familiar with the subject knows that advertising alone never made any article permanently successful. It must have in addition absolute, undeniable merit, and this the new catarrh cure certainly possesses in a marked degree.

Physicians, who formerly depended upon inhalers, sprays and local washes or ointments now use Stuart's Catarrh Tablets because, as one of the most prominent stated, these tablets contain in pleasant, convenient form all the really efficient catarrh remedies, such as red gum, Guaiac, Eucalyptol, and Sanguinaria.

They contain no cocaine nor opiate, and are given to little children with entire safety and benefit.

Dr. J. J. Reitiger of Covington, Ky., says: I suffered from catarrh in my head and throat every fall, with stoppage of the nose and irritation in the throat affecting my voice and often extending to the stomach, causing catarrh of the stomach. I bought a fifty cent package of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets at my druggist's, carried them in my pocket and used them faithfully, and the way in which they cleared my head and throat was certainly remarkable. I had no catarrh last winter and spring and consider myself entirely free from any catarrhal trouble.

Mrs. Jerome Ellison of Wheeling, W. Va., writes: I suffered from catarrh nearly my whole life and last winter my two children also suffered from catarrhal colds and sore throat so much they were out of school a large portion of the winter. My brother who was cured of catarrhal deafness by using Stuart's Catarrh Tablets urged me to try them so much that I did so and am truly thankful for what they have done for myself and my children. I always keep a box of the tablets in the house and at the first appearance of a cold or sore throat we nip it in the bud and catarrh is no longer a household affliction with us.

Full sized packages of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are sold for fifty cents at all druggists.
